

Index of content "Teksty Drugie" 2012 no 4

	Foreword
Katarzyna BOJARSKA	8	(Post)traumatic realism now
	Essays
Paweł MOŚCICKI	15	Karski. A paradox of the witness
Adam LIPSZYC	34	Materialistic solipsism or investigations of a cynocephalus
Jakub MOMRO	48	Virtuality and apocalypse
Katarzyna BOJARSKA	70	Two towers, two events: Art Spiegelman and trauma regained
	Discussions and Analyses
Agata BIELIK-ROBSON	91	What did Franz Kafka look for
Joanna SARBIEWSKA	102	Tracing the full existence
Michał KOPCZYK	109	Bobkowski and Polish demons
	Archive
Roland BARTHES	119	The reality effect Trans. M.P. Markowski
Michał Paweł MARKOWSKI	127	Between neurosis and psychosis: Roland Barthes' realities
	Presentations
Jacques RANCIÈRE	143	Why Emma Bovary had to be killed Trans. J. Franczak

Michael ROTHBERG

160 Between Auschwitz and Algeria
Trans. K. Bojarska

Tomáš JIRSA

186 From perfumed moustache to the ornaments of language. Physiognomy of writing in Franz Kafka's Trial
Trans. H. Marciniak

Conversations

207 Affect, trauma and understanding:
art beyond the limits of imagination.
Ernst van Alphen in conversation with Roma Sendyka and Katarzyna Bojarska

Aleksandra SZCZEPAN

219 Realism and trauma – a reconnaissance

Krzysztof PIJARSKI

231 "Realism," embodied subjects, projection of empathy

Investigations

Magdalena NOWICKA

250 The Jew, the witch and the wardrobe.
On the construction of Jewish identity of the authors writing on "difficult" past

Agnieszka DAUKSZA

267 Holy Matter. On collecting and gathering in the writings of Kornel Filipowicz

283 Authors' Biographical
Notes